

Dear Honorable President Obama and members of the Administration:

United States, stop supporting the sham April 2010 elections in Sudan. In a climate of violent political intimidation and with millions disenfranchised in camps, there cannot be credible elections in Sudan. Our support gives the Government of al-Bashir, indicted on war crimes and crimes against humanity, legitimacy it does not deserve. It is a waste of American taxpayer money, and non-credible elections will fuel violence and divisions in a country that is already on the brink.

Obama Administration, engage at the highest level in bringing lasting peace, protection, and justice to Sudan, now!

First Name	Last Name	Zip	State	How legitimate is an indicted war criminal, after he steals an election?
Katie-Jay	Scott	90254	CA	The people of Darfur always say they want Peace, Protection, and Justice. Allowing the very person who needs to face justice, to steal an election that legitimizes his rule, is the wrong path for Darfuris and for Sudan.
Gabriel	Stauring	90254	CA	He is not. He should be standing before judges at the ICC, not as a candidate to continue killing and brutalizing the people of Sudan.

Do not let the election of war criminal, al-Bashir happen. Shame on us, the government of the United States of America, for being too silent on this pressing humanitarian issue.

We are still working here in South Florida to end this genocide. With Bashir elected to office again, that will never happen. We need to do all we can to end this sham of a government.

Bashir is a killer, plain and simple. Listen to the people of Sudan; this election comes with prejudice and intimidation. It is a sham.

Bashir and the Turkish government are partners in Genocide denial

Legitimate, in this case would mean business as usual, normalize relations, extract the minerals, send arms and deny the genocide.

Omar al Bashir should be arrested and tried by the ICC, not falsely elected by fabricated voters and millions of displaced civilians who are denied a vote because of his genocidal policy.

Work with other countries to bring financial and political pressure to Sudan and help the people of Darfur.

THIS IS NOT RIGHT!

There can be no legitimacy in a war criminal running for or stealing an election for any public office.

NOT LEGITIMATE IN ANY WAY.

But not through military power, please!

I have no confidence that this man can be a legitimately elected leader of this country.

Of course he is not legitimate and the ICC must be above the fray of politics that are trying hard to deligitimize the rule of law (International) because they feel that they can deal with Bashir. This is folly and has proven a failed strategy in dealing with the regime in Sudan.

Do not support the fraudulent election in Sudan! Bring al-Bashir to justice.

Illegitimate governments only last so long. Crush the people and there goes the government because there is no PEOPLE to govern.

He isn't!

al-Bashir must be brought to justice for his war crimes and his crimes against humanity, not allowed to pose as a legitimate statesman; his indictment must be enforced. There must be an end to the travesty of impunity.

Zero legitimate!

NOT LEGITIMATE. Obama administration, please don't put American in support of these elections as though they are legitimate. Real change is needed.

how legitimate is an indicted war criminal after he steals an election?

Bashir is a criminal - the USA cannot shrink from confronting this brutal regime and saying the truth!!

Not legitimate

He has no legitimacy in any case; especially so if the election is rigged.

Please do not support these elections, being that they are completely undemocratic!!!

Fire Graton or at least put someone like Prendergast over him to speak truth to power. There can be no doubt that the US has the power to stop this. if we don't we can now add to our national shame as the most powerful nation on earth that twice failed to intervene to stop a genocide the distinction of permitting the genocidaire to legitimize his deadly hold on Sudan.

The international community can accept Bashir or stigmatize him, deal with him as a "leader" or as the genocidal criminal that he is.

Not legitimate at all. And in the words of political theorist Edmund Burk: "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good [people] do nothing." I say let's do something. We don't want Sudan to get worse because of this, but let's think of something. If any of you have suggestions for the president, please share them.

There is no legitimacy of the elections of Sudan, similar to the Afghani elections that happen even with American intervention. This Needs To Stop!

No legitimacy at all!

We all already know how the sham election thing pans out...

Not very legitimate at all, my good sir!

Not at all

About as legitimate as a cat on sticks. Wait..was that a cat on sticks? No! It was just a newspaper on the ground. Long story, but...no, not legitimate by any means!

Edwin	Morris	33703	FL	Less legitimate than just an indicted war criminal.
Boris	Rabinovici	33180	FL
Asif	Khan	33180	FL	very illegitimate, more like a facist dictator, rather than the winner of an election
Roberto	Martinez	33033	FL	I would like to give each person a second chance, but in a corrupt state like Sudan, a ruthless war criminal cannot be trusted. His election to any office would be very illegitimate.

Ali	Alhedai	93940	CA	The premise of the Comprehensive Peace Agreement (CPA) signed in 2005 is sharing of power and wealth and democratic transformation. Nothing has changed in five years and what is happening is an attempt by the National Congress Party to legitimize its dictatorship by these elections which in my view is a sham. The US government should not help a war criminal do that.
